TRANSCREED CREDITS

Transfer credit will be transferred subject to the following considerations:
• The number of the institution’s credits must be transferred as a whole.
• The comparability of the coursework with University of Minnesota coursework.
• The comparability of the coursework with University of Minnesota degree requirements.

For more specific information about transferring credit to the U of M, please visit z.umn.edu/TransferGuidelines.

Transferology is a free, web-based source for accurate, up-to-date information about how your courses will transfer and apply to a degree program at the U of M. Transferology benefits include easy access to course equivalencies, detailed course equivalency guides, planning guides, and student services. Start now by going to www.transferology.com.

If you have questions about transfer courses or need help interpreting information from Transferology, we encourage you to contact the transfer counselor in your area.

In addition, these colleges and programs utilize certain criteria that are unique to their programs. To review specific admissions requirements, prerequisite coursework, transfer credit guidelines and more, visit z.umn.edu/TransferGuidelines.

Minnesota Transfer Curriculum
To simplify the transfer process, the University of Minnesota, Minnesota state universities, and Minnesota community colleges have developed a Minnesota Transfer Curriculum (MnTC). If you complete the MnTC or an associate of arts (AA) degree at a participating school and then transfer to the University of Minnesota Twin Cities, you have completed the core, the designated themes of liberal education, and first-year writing portion of the University’s liberal education requirements (you may still need to complete the writing intensive portion of the writing skill requirement). For more information on transfer credit and the liberal education requirements, please see z.umn.edu/TransferGuidelines.
